Summary of Work

We replaced the shear valve under 24 on 1/6, procured the line test and scheduled final. The line tester accidentally submitted the line test for the wrong tank. The inspector canceled the permit. We resubmitted the permit and submitted the final as the line tester uploaded the line test to the correct tank and scheduled the final. The inspector cancelled the final because he would like another line test done because the new permit was dated in March and the line test for the work was done before that date. This is the third permit so we can get the line test done (which is scheduled for this morning at 8 am)
